eLearning is training delivered on a computer, whether this is via CD-ROM, on a network or over the Internet.

All libraries in North Glasgow are all branded learntdirect centres, except the Beatson Oncology Library, where you can complete a variety of courses. These courses can also be accessed from home or your local library. These courses are free of charge and you can register online at www.northglashealthinfo.org.uk or simply by filling out a form at your site library. For more details on eLearning opportunities, please contact your Library Manager (see back page for contact details.)

There are 100s of courses available including: European Computer Driving Licence (EDCL), which tests your ability in Microsoft Office packages and is recognised all over Europe.

Library Resources & Services

Books - can be borrowed for up to 4 weeks. Division staff can borrow up to 10 books. Please note a fine system is in operation, but that books can be renewed by telephone. CD-ROMs and audiovisual material are also available.

Journals - these cannot leave the library. Please check our website for a comprehensive list of print and e-journals.

Photocopying - card operated machines are available at each site. £1 card = 14 copies, £5 card = 93 copies.

Inter Library Loans - this is a free service for articles that are not held in North Glasgow Division. However if the document is only available at the British library a small charge of £3 will be made. Articles can be faxed or posted.

Professional Literature Search - this is another free service for those working in the North Glasgow Division. Librarians will search through a variety of databases to find the best resources and articles available.

Current Awareness Bulletin - these have been compiled by librarians and are available monthly and bi-monthly on a wide variety of topics, from which articles can be requested. A contents page service is also available and you can sign up for any relevant journals and also request articles. These can be e-mailed or posted and are also available on the website at www.northglashealthinfo.org.uk

Enquiry Service - librarians are on hand during opening hours (see overleaf) to answer any queries you may have.

Computer Access - available for browsing the Internet, using office packages and eLearning opportunities.

Study Space - plenty of desks available at all sites to study. Eating and drinking is allowed here.

For details on other library services please visit our website at www.northglashealthinfo.org.uk
